PROFILE

My Identity

Learning new things, being part of a team and finding solutions to problems: these make me who I am. I have been a stay-at-home dad with a dental degree, a business background and a passion in technology. I can't wait to learn more and start my career in the exciting world of technology and cyber security.

About me

Although my background is in dentistry, I have pursued my career in business since I graduated. I have extensive experience in various operational and management sectors. As a healthcare worker before, I understand the importance of information governance such as responsibility to protect patients' data which includes any personal identifiable information and I was also trained to have a strong professional ethic. When I was working in Colgate Palmolive Company, my job involved liaising with local authorities and government officials whereas following strict rules and regulations like FCPA is crucial. Ever since I became manager at an Apple retail shop, I've developed a deep connection with technology and I found out my desire to improve efficiency in every system that I encounter.

After relocating to the UK, I've been a stay-at-home dad for two beautiful kids. This latest experience definitely taught me better in time management, multi-tasking, problem-solving, and organizational skills. These skills cannot be underestimated and are transferable to any job.

I'm really excited about the opportunity to contribute to the team, especially using my analytical skills to develop effective marketing strategies, create engaging content, manage social media campaigns, and build strong online communities. I pride myself on being organized, a strong communicator, and someone who brings a positive attitude to every task. I'm also confident in my ability to manage projects, tackle challenges, and find solutions, even when things aren't clear-cut. I'm not afraid to ask for help or advice when needed, and I'm always looking for ways to grow and improve. I'd love to bring my enthusiasm and adaptability to this role and help the team succeed. Thank you for considering my application—I'd be thrilled to join your team!
